Something to Ponder

January is National Braille Month

Louis Braille was a French educator who began to lose his sight at age 3 and was completely blind by age 5. He was the inventor of a system of reading and writing for people who cannot see printed text. His system was made up of a series of raised dots. He was blinded at the age of 3 in an accident, and though his system of communication was only just starting to be popular when he was alive, it is widely used and mostly unchanged today.
